the finest organic linens in the world

I founded Anna Sova in 2004 with my Father, Richard K. Walker. Prior to that I had been a manufacturing CEO and a product designer for many, many years.

Our goal was to build the finest quality eco responsible products for the entire home. This goes back to 1998 when we built our factory for manufacturing our patented paint made from food ingredients, bypassing the toxic contamination of conventional paint factories, and allowing us to create "the healthiest paint you can buy™."

Our other products included hardware and furniture made from upcycled aluminum and steel, hand fired bamboo, and FSC reforested wood; draperies made of certified organically processed silk, cotton, and linen; organic cotton carpets made with the Tibetan Government in Exile; and flooring made of formaldehyde-free bamboo and wood. We also made numerous other eco home accessories, most importantly: the finest quality certified organic linens in the world (previously SKAL, now GOTS certified).

The search to make our bedding took me to more than a dozen countries and to 21 mills to build the quality of linens my Austrian Grandmother, Sova, would approve of. (My nickname is Anna, hence our name, Anna Sova)

Sadly, I have also visited over 40 countries for manufacturing purposes in which I have seen horrifying things: slavery, unspeakable working conditions, children playing in waters turned oddly blue with chemical run-off from textile processing, land made barren by toxic fertilizers and pesticides, and toxic products separated for purchase by the USA from the more eco-responsible products for other countries' consumption.

The USA consumes over 50% of the world's goods. We are responsible for all parts of the chain of consumption: the working conditions of people who make our goods; the health of the land the goods are grown or mined from; and the long-term effects that fertilizers, pesticides, dyes, sizing, and chemicals have on our planet and ultimately on us as consumers.

Sixteen percent of the world's pesticides are used on conventional cotton and up to five pounds of toxic chemicals are used per pound of finished cotton. If we could cut that in half, imagine what a difference it would make.

Since choosing this path, I have had the opportunity to visit certified organic cotton and linen co-ops and fair-trade labor factories throughout the world. I have also witnessed the amazing benefits of shifting away from "conventional" practices. The happy children in the photo at left live on a cotton farm where the years of transition from conventional toxic pesticides to organic farming has brought a marked decrease in birth defects and an increase in joy to their lives.

We want you to be a part of our change. Anna Sova will help support other organizations on the front line of saving the earth and its endangered creatures by dedicating a percentage of sales to them.

We vote every day with our dollars. Our choice should not be between luxury and sustainability; our best choice should be for both.

We can make the world a better place, one room at a time.

Elegant Activists "Support the Butterflies" Collection

"Support the Butterflies" Collection donates proceeds to Save our Monarchs.org a grass roots organization aggressively planting and selling Milkweed seeds which provide all the nourishment the Monarchs need to transform from caterpillar into the adult butterflies. This Milkweed habitat is rapidly vanishing due to land development and the widespread use of weed killer on the fields where they live. SOM also supports "Mexirocks" hand painted by people living in the Monarch Biosphere in Mexico helping to save the forest the Monarchs depend on over the winter. Anna Sova provides a free packet of Milkweed seeds with each purchase of this collection. Please visit their website at saveourmonarchs.org.

Anna Sova patented food paint

The healthiest paint you can buy can!™

This is not your typical petro-chemical, P.V.A., polyvinyl acrylic plastic stretched across your wall. Our wall finish does not contain the dozens of toxic ingredients necessary for what the paint industry calls "paint. We produce our wall finishes with up to 98% food grade ingredients: milk casein (as in yogurt), (as in powdered donuts), food emulsifiers, and preservatives (as in milkshakes and chocolates). Because, isn't breathing it the same as eating it? Just compare a gallon of our healthy wall finish to twelve pounds of vanilla truffles.
