THE STORY OF ANNA SOVA HOME

Whitney Anna Walker

The purchases we make define our lives.
And the lives of the people who produce them and the health of our planet.
The value of goods should be defined by the way they are produced, the fairness of the labor and environmentally responsible materials and processing.

The Story of Anna Sova Home

As an eco responsible product designer and interior designer I believe the quality of a product is not just in how beautiful or well made the physical product is.

The true integrity of a product is in the pride the workers feel when making a product they are paid fairly for, in sensible conditions. The integrity of knowing the product is made environmentally responsibly, without polluting the planet, the workers or the consumer with toxic pesticides and processing.

We have a responsibility as consumers to know the production process and end use of any product we purchase. And to know that product is not a polyester plastic that will never truly biodegrade or a turn into microplastics in our ground water sources or even worse, our oceans.

Pretty colors and flashy textures may hide slave labor working conditions. Cheap consumer goods are meant to have a short shelf life for use and a long pollution life for the planet.

I have visited over 50 countries and manufacturing facilities in many of these countries. If USA citizens understood what toxic working conditions and toxic pollutions are caused by our disposable consumer goods they would be horrified. Understanding what we consume and how it affects other countries and the health of the planet is a life long passion of mine.

For these reasons we only use 100% GOTS certified organic cottons. Conventional cotton is responsible for 14% of the entire planets pesticides. Cotton is a beautiful textile and has been loved for thousands of years. We believe cotton is more eco responsible in many ways than bamboo products. We also make linen and silk and velvet products. For more information on the textile process please read my book "Climate Change and Interior Design".

When I started Anna Sova Home with my father Richard K. Walker in 2004 the purpose of the brand was to be a "healthy, whole home" company. I owned a hardware company that worked with upcycled iron, steel, aluminum and bamboo, bio based resins in both hand casting and injection molding. We also produced draperies, bedding, furniture and accessories.

In 1998 my bedroom was being photographed for a magazine shoot. There were 22 silk drapery panels on the windows and four poster bed. That night my sleep was hallucinogenic. The next night also. My staff and I decided that something in the drapery panels was causing a health problem.

I called my mill in India and the owner told me not to sleep in the room with more than two or three of the drapery panels because they were treated with formaldehyde like most silk decorative fabrics at the time. I explained we could not sell a product that I would not personally use and flew immediately to the factory to find a replacement. The mill owner was extremely well educated in the latest chemical textile technology and assured me this was the only way to treat the silk.

After three days of arguing with the mill owner, I saw a very old man on a three legged stool in the corner of the factory. Using two interpreters I asked him what did the factory treat the silk with before fifty five gallon drums of formaldehyde? He explained the Indian Soap Nut, from a small tree which has grown around the world for thousands of years as a fabric sizing, shampoo and baby wash. Against our mill owners objections that this was a product "only the poor would use" we transferred 100% of our production to the Indian soap nut. From there I became involved in the dyeing process and transferred all production of all my textiles to SKAL certified processing and now to GOTS certified processing.

Also starting in the late 1990's my Father and I started building a paint. Not just any paint. We built a patented paint made from up to 96% food ingredients. A paint that is truly "The healthiest paint you can buy". And the trademark cost a small fortune to prove because we were challenged by a paint lobby and had to hire three independent laboratories to prove our paint is truly "The healthiest paint you can buy". Visit our website at www.healthypaintco.com

Our Anna Sova sheeting is truly "The finest quality organic bedding in the world". Made in Italy with the amazing water from the Alps, historic Italian processing and old world artisan craftsmanship. Our bedding is born from a love of the great European Bedding such as Sferra, Pratisi, Anichini and others. I visited 21 mills in Italy before finding the mill we could produce our certified organic with. Some travels are easier than others...

We hope you love our products and much as we do. Most importantly we hope you appreciate the care for the employees that make these products, the care for the planet and the care for future generations that comes with each Anna Sova product.

With love for all,
Anna

"SAVE THE BUTTERFLIES" COLLECTION

Exclusively made for us in Italy of GOTS certified organic cotton with old world European quality, sewing and finishing. Our sheeting is a heritage quality cotton meant to last generations. Proceeds from this collection are donated to saveourmonarchs.org which is a favorite small eco org.

The monarch butterfly numbers are down 90% from 1992. The milkweed plant population is also down 90%. SOM has donated over two million packets of Milkweed seeds to elementary schools for pollinator gardens. They also support the Michoacán, Mexico Biosphere anti-logging activities with the "Eco Rock" program where locals paint rocks with butterflies and sell to eco tourists which helps the logging families transition to Eco Tourism.

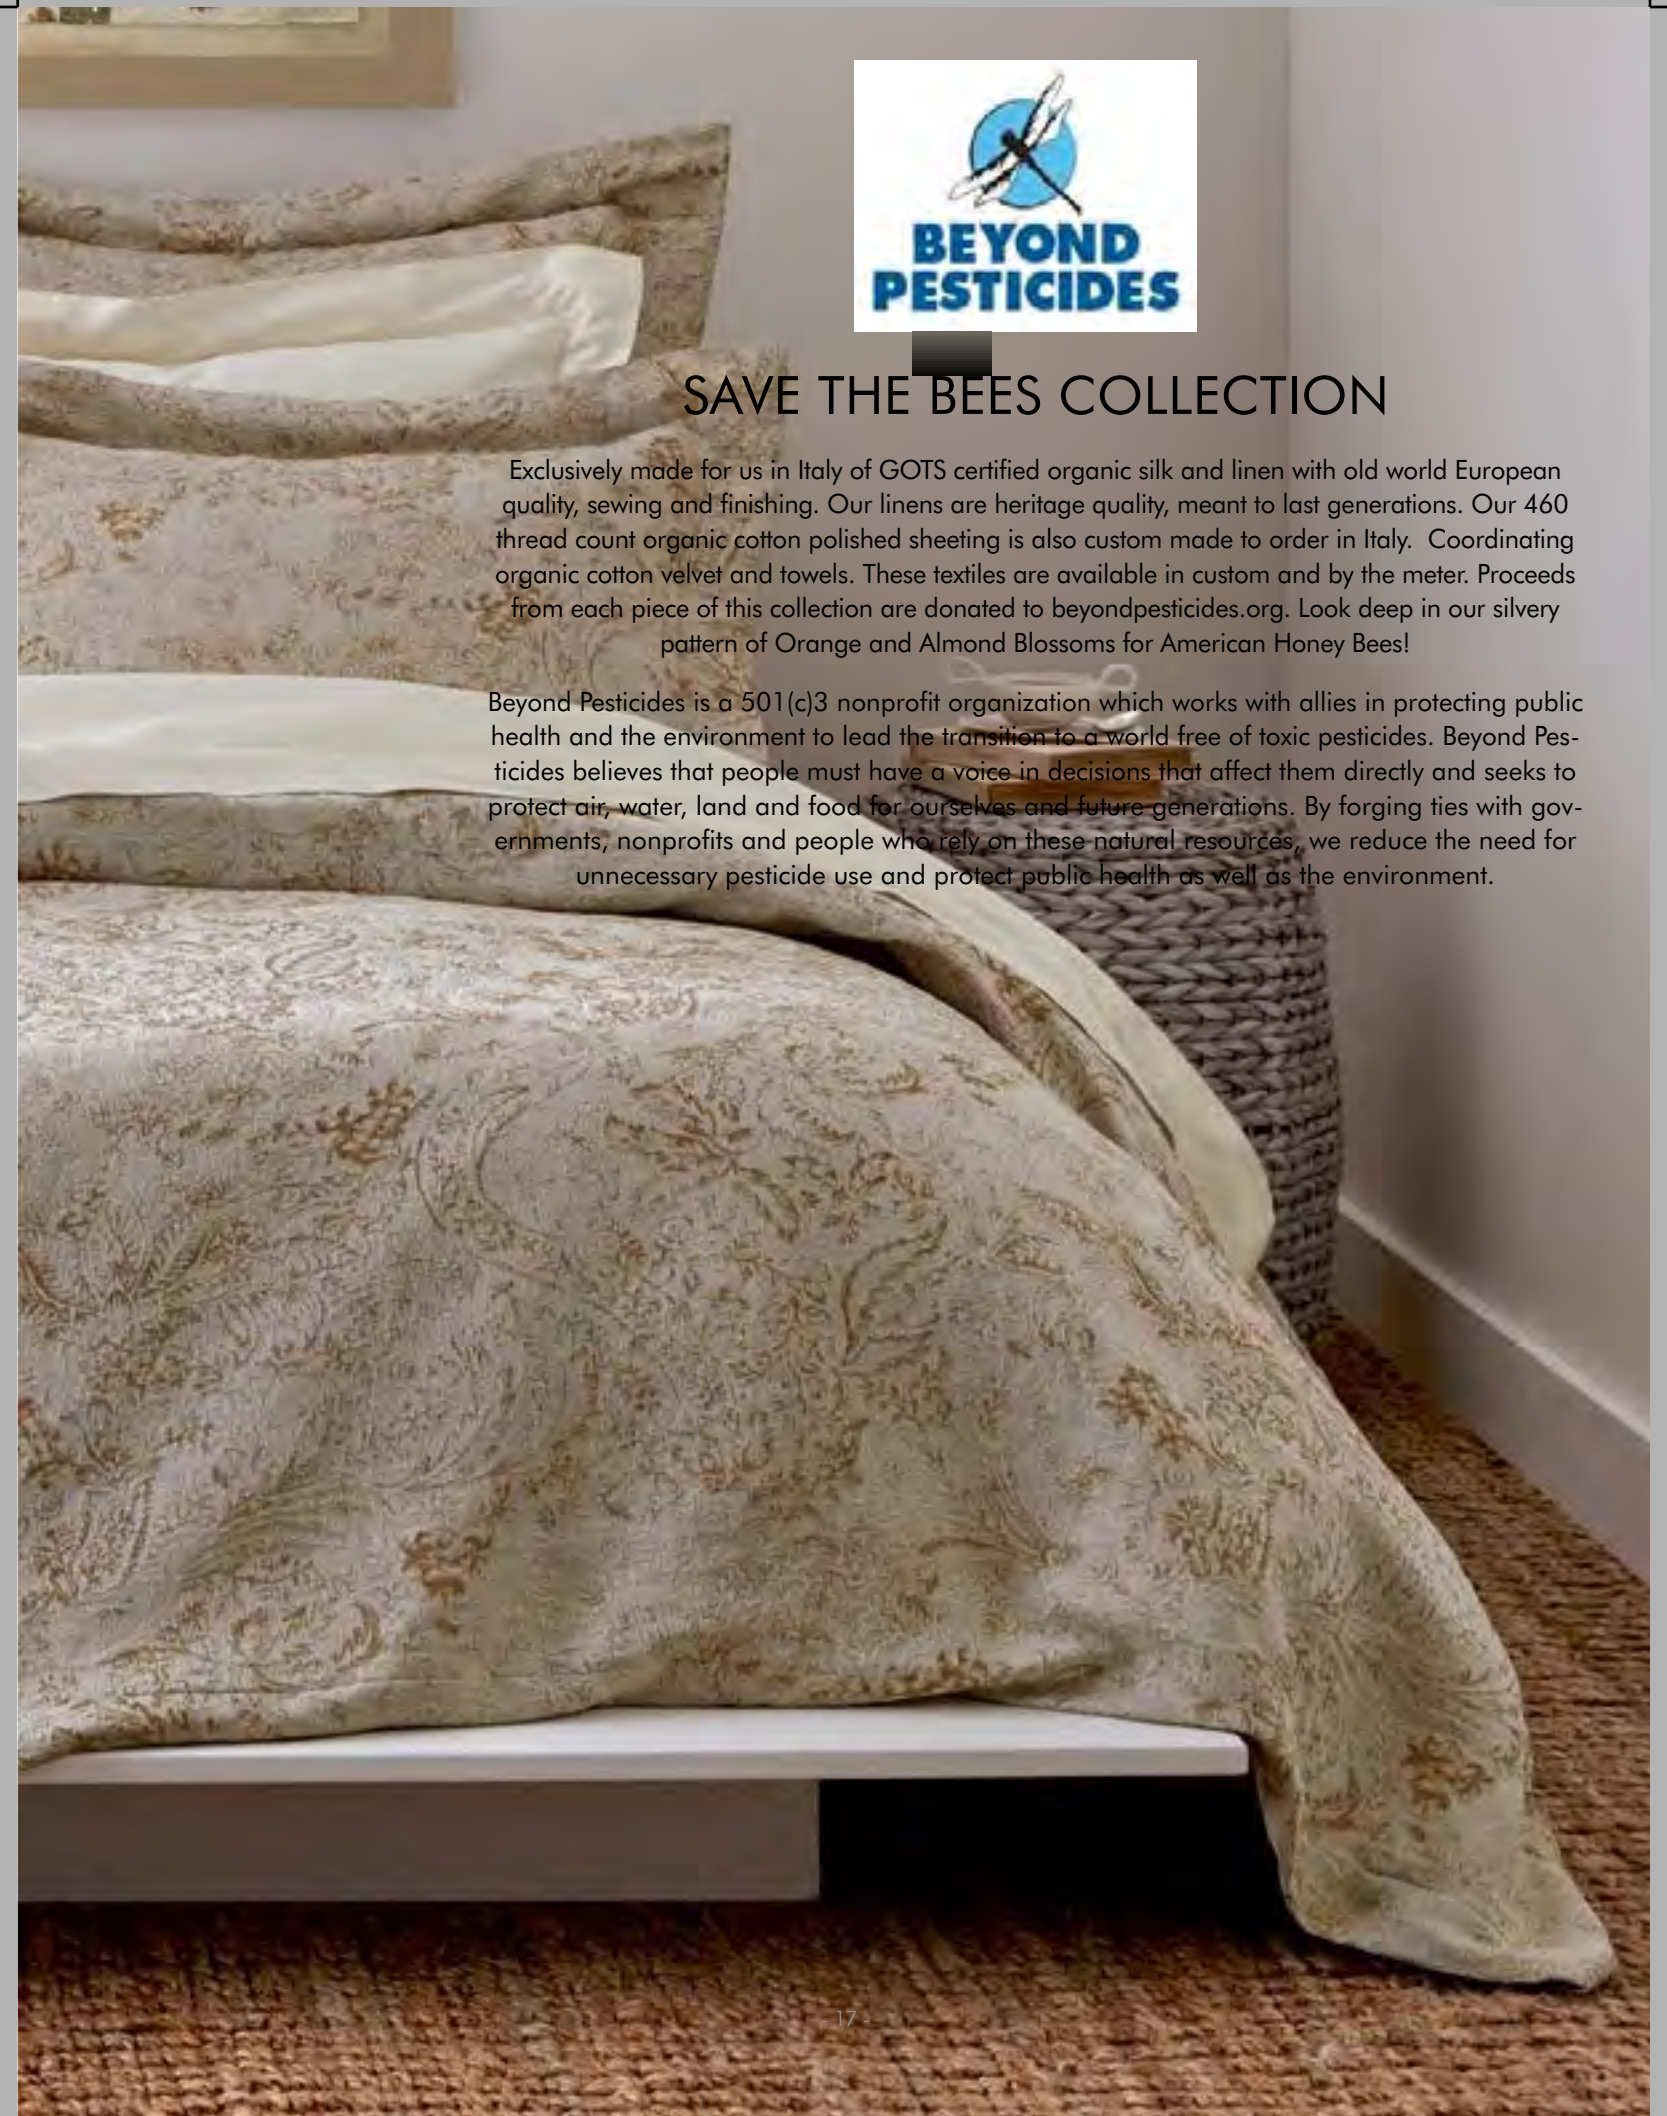

"SEA SHEPHERD.ORG" COLLECTION

Exclusively made for us in Italy of GOTS certified organic cotton with old world European quality, sewing and finishing. Our Matelassé is a heritage quality quilted cotton meant to last generations. Proceeds from each piece of this collection are donated to Sea Shepherd.org. Look deep in our "very ironic Japanese ocean wave" design to see the Sea Shepherd ships protecting the Vaquita Dolphins, Whales, Porpoises, Sea Turtles and all the oceans endangered fish. Our 460 thread count polished sheeting is also custom made to order in Italy.

Sea Shepherd is an international direct-action ocean conservation movement. They defend wildlife, and conserve and protect the world's oceans from illegal exploitation and environmental destruction. Poachers plunder marine life sanctuaries with impunity, and illegal fishing goes unchecked in the high seas far from public scrutiny. Sea Shepherd Global is the world's largest private navy. Our founder Whitney "Anna" Walker has been a Sea Shepherd volunteer for many years, including as a vegan chef on board the M.V. Brigitte Bardot.

SAVE THE BEES COLLECTION

Exclusively made for us in Italy of GOTS certified organic silk and linen with old world European quality, sewing and finishing. Our linens are heritage quality, meant to last generations. Our 460 thread count organic cotton polished sheeting is also custom made to order in Italy. Coordinating organic cotton velvet and towels. These textiles are available in custom and by the meter. Proceeds from each piece of this collection are donated to beyondpesticides.org. Look deep in our silvery pattern of Orange and Almond Blossoms for American Honey Bees!

Beyond Pesticides is a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization which works with allies in protecting public health and the environment to lead the transition to a world free of toxic pesticides. Beyond Pesticides believes that people must have a voice in decisions that affect them directly and seeks to protect air, water, land and food for ourselves and future generations. By forging ties with governments, nonprofits and people who rely on these natural resources, we reduce the need for unnecessary pesticide use and protect public health as well as the environment.

GOLDEN SAVANNAH COLLECTION

Almost an iridescent silk golden grass on a white polished linen ground. Also available are coordinating organic cotton velvet and towels. These textiles are available in custom and by the meter. Collection donates proceeds to Raising Coral Costa Rica.org.

Raising Coral Costa Rica is a nonprofit group dedicated to the restoration of coral reefs in Costa Rica. Many coral reefs have been damaged by pollution and climate change and they aim to restore coral reef ecosystems. RCCR grows corals in underwater nurseries and plant them on damaged coral reefs to help speed up their natural recovery, and closely with the local communities to educate them on marine ecosystem by developing strategies to help them sustain livelihoods by engaging and employing them in reef restoration. Restoring reefs naturally brings people into a symbiotic partnership with ocean life, which has sustained us for thousands of years.

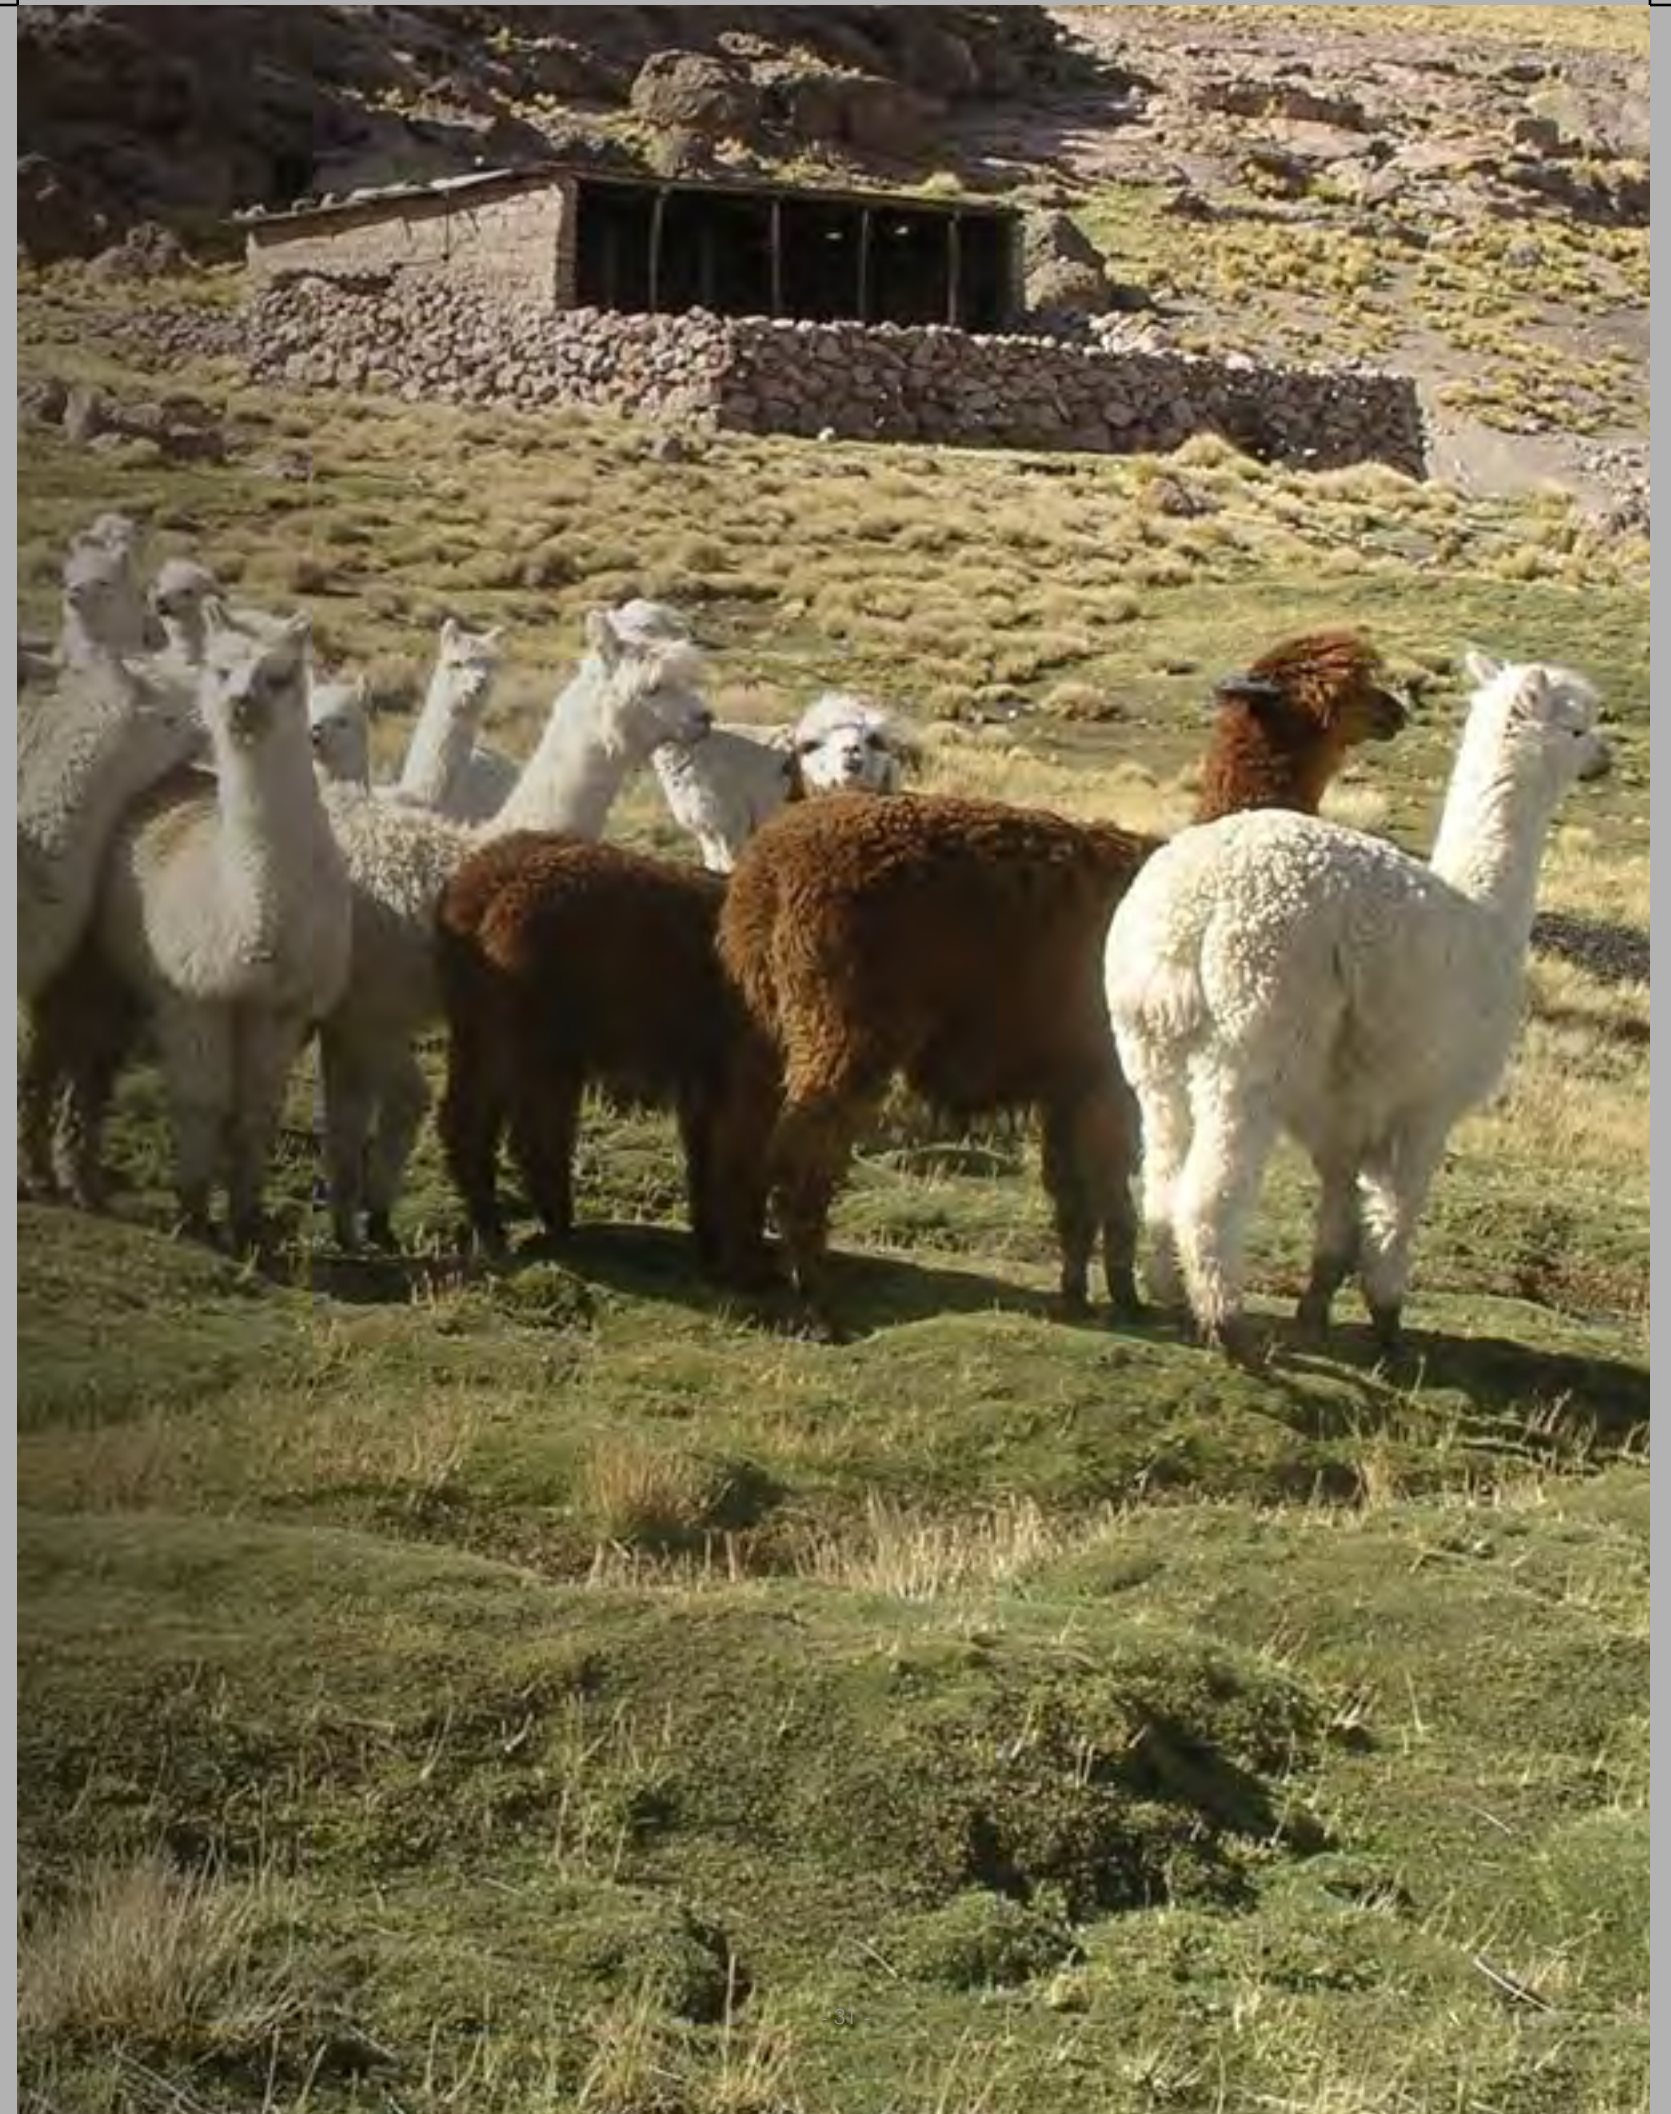

ANNA SOVA BABY ALPACA

Anna Sova has been producing fine quality Alpaca products since 2006. Working with the Peruvian Government Co-op in the highland where there are no chemicals involved in the growing and production according to "Panchamama" philosophy. The shearing process is kind versus the sometimes toxic shearing conditions of sheep. Alpaca is seven times warmer per pound than wool. Alpaca is known to have certain healthful benefits.

MID-CENTURY MODERN, “SAVE THE ELEPHANTS” COLLECTION

Exclusively made for us in Italy of GOTS certified organic cotton with old world European quality, sewing and finishing.

Our Matelassé is a heritage quality quilted cotton meant to last generations. Proceeds from each piece of this collection are donated to Sea Shepherd.org. Look deep in our “very ironic Japanese ocean wave” design to see the Sea Shepherd ships protecting the Vaquita Dolphins, Whales, Porpoises, Sea Turtles and all the ocean's endangered fish. Our 460 thread count polished sheeting is also custom made to order in Italy. Also available are coordinating organic cotton velvet and towels.

These textiles are available in custom and by the meter.

As an experienced Manufacturing CEO of over 30 years and a product, textile and interior designer, with multiple patents and trademarks I have traveled to over 50 countries and have documented manufacturing facilities in over 30 countries.

In 1992 as Founder and CEO of The Antique Drapery Rod Co. we manufactured historically and architecturally authentic window hardware and ready made draperies, with a strong environmental policy as part of our founding mission statement. For twenty three years we employed between 60 to 200 people. After 25 years, in June of 2017 I sold The Antique Drapery Rod Co Inc. and it continues today.

In 2002 I founded Anna Sova Luxury Organics, a whole home concept, I work personally with mills and factories in 14 countries. Starting with my families' patented paint (made from food grade ingredients) to the world's finest quality certified organic bed and bath textiles, formaldehyde free and bamboo flooring, organic cotton carpeting, FSC certified furniture to bed, bath and home essential oil products.

My passion is inventing, designing, developing and producing eco responsible consumer goods in a variety of categories. GOTS Certified Organic Cotton, Eco Silk, Natural woolen fibers, Up to 96% Food based no VOC Paint, Organic bed and bath products, hardware in hand forged iron, steel, aluminum, bamboo. Hand cast and injection molded plant based bio-resins, FSC certified furniture, low voc flooring. Currently working on new patents on home products with EME and RFE reflective and grounding properties.
